

MSW SWEAP Exit Instrument: EPAS 2022 Alignment

A major change in the assessment requirements under CSWE EPAS 2022 is the focus of the implicit curriculum assessment on Anti-Racism, Diversity, Equity and Inclusion. Programs can use the EPAS 2015 responsive Exit Survey to meet the EPAS 2022 ADEI assessment requirements.

How?

You can simply report on student responses to the following item in the existing tools, under “Commitment to Diversity”

- The social work program was committed to diversity among its students.
- The social work program modeled diversity among its faculty and staff.
- Faculty and staff of the social work program modeled respect for difference.
- The social work program provided an environment where students learned about differences.
- The social work program provided a learning environment where students valued and respected diversity.

Alternatively, you can download your raw data, and analyze any part of student responses on the Exit Survey by student demographics, including race, gender identity, age, etc. How do you access raw data for individual analyses? When you have a SWEAP Exit Survey report already run, simply use the Download this Data in Excel format button or the SPSS format button at the top of the report page available on the user interface. You can then run cross-tabs, etc., to determine if student characteristics relate to evaluation of various parts of their assessment of your program.

In Fall 2023, SWEAP will launch brand new ADEI specific scale that will be embedded in the new SWEAP Exit Survey.
